

The image shows two identical horizontal metal handles mounted on a dark-stained wooden cabinet. The handles are made of a polished, cylindrical metal, likely stainless steel or brass, and are attached to the wood with matching metal brackets. The lighting is dramatic, coming from the side, which creates strong highlights on the metal surfaces and deep shadows on the wood, emphasizing the texture and the sleek design of the hardware.

ASPEN

The Aspen line is transitional in style. Accents include a custom egg and dart trim. This furniture line is at home in both traditional settings and more contemporary spaces.

MADE IN AMERICA

When quality, deadlines and price are important factors, the Made In America mark is more important than ever in the hospitality industry. Sorrentino Mariani is proud to be an American owned company with each piece of our furniture crafted in the United States.

Our experience has taught us that manufacturing our furniture in America is the most beneficial method for our clients. We are able to more effectively communicate with our clientele and pass the client's instructions to our engineers, craftsmen, delivery personnel and every person at every stage of production, delivery and installation. And since every facet of our operation is in America, our clients also receive responsive customer service, reduced freight costs, competitive pricing, and on-time delivery. Most importantly, our customers receive American craftsmanship.
